A new Morning, A new Day!

'Was that a strange place' I said to myself.

I always get adventurous dreams and fantasies. I don't know but this time was it real?

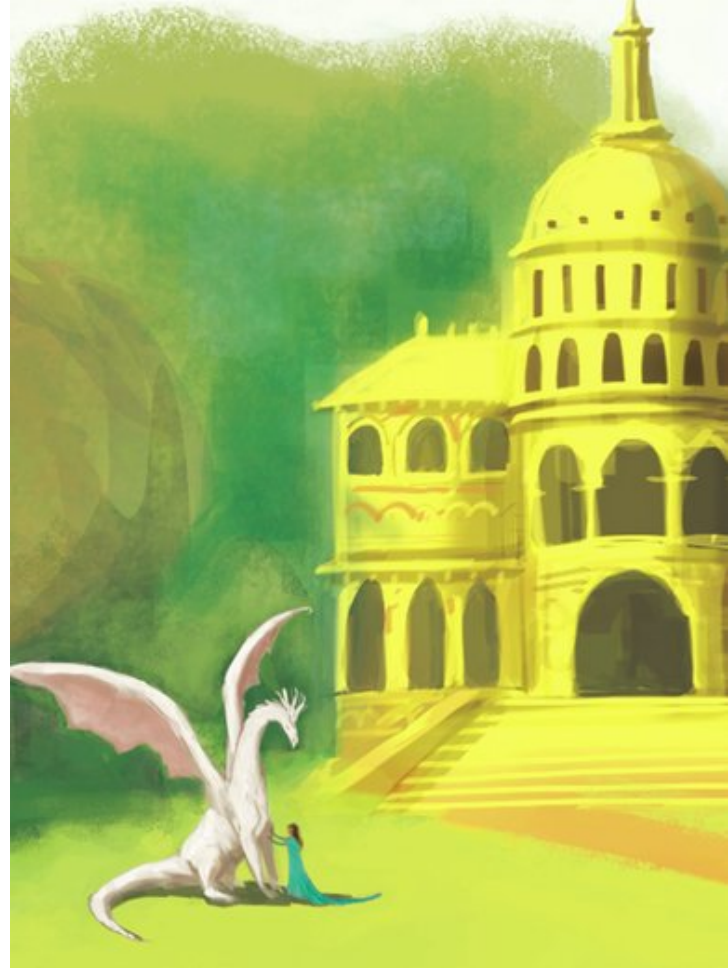

I woke up with a cool start, did my chores and started reading near the garden, my favourite place for reading.

While reading, I saw that the trees were changing into barks, and many things transformed on their own!! Then I did not focus on them much until I saw a humongous mountain and the palace.

A white dragon saw me. It said 'Come in the palace and the King has invited you.' 'Why have I been called and what's the reason?' He said 'The King will tell all those things.' I went to the palace thinking about why was I called.

The Dragon led me straight to the King's Large room. The King said 'Greetings boy!! We know that you will not tell anyone about our world. We called you because... ' 'Because of what?'

'because we have a rival kingdom and those people want to capture our World. They have a black Dragon and it's more powerful than ours. We want our Dragon to be more powerful than theirs. You should find five pumpkins from your World because we need them.' Just five pumpkins and I can go to Earth?' 'Yes'. Again I said 'But why did you call me, you could get 5 pumpkins on your own' 'We don't know anything about your place.'

'Fine' I then went to Earth and took five pumpkins for the war. While walking I thought 'why would they need five pumpkins?' I then took five pumpkins and now I was thinking how to go there?

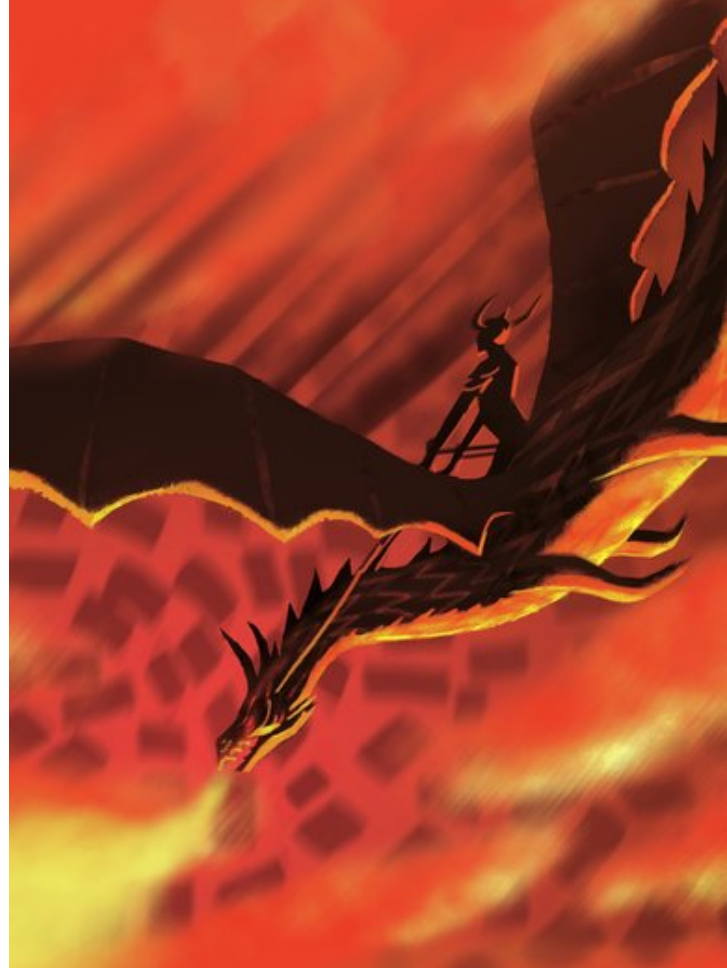

Again the trees changed and many other things changed. And now I directly was in King's room. I gave the pumpkins to him. I asked 'What's your name and what's your world called?' 'My name is King Akshit and I am the King of Dragons and I know that your world does not have Dragons. Our world is called Dragoland'

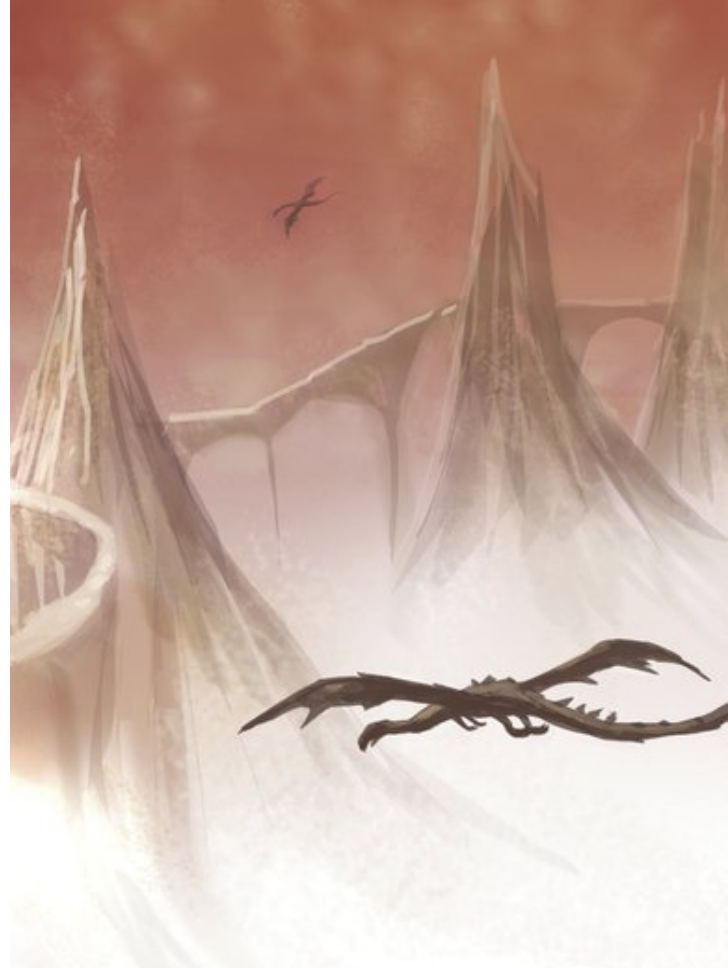

That day there was a war between the two rival kingdoms and King Akshit won. At the end of the fighting, I asked him 'Why your rival had a Dragon if you are the King of Dragons? How did your rival possess a Dragon?'

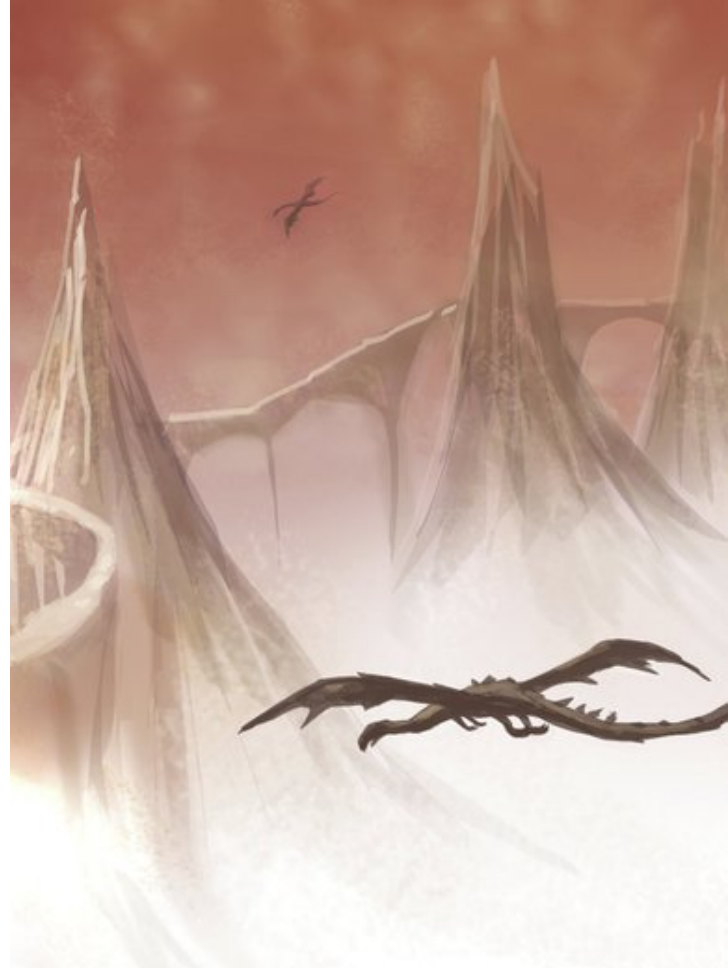

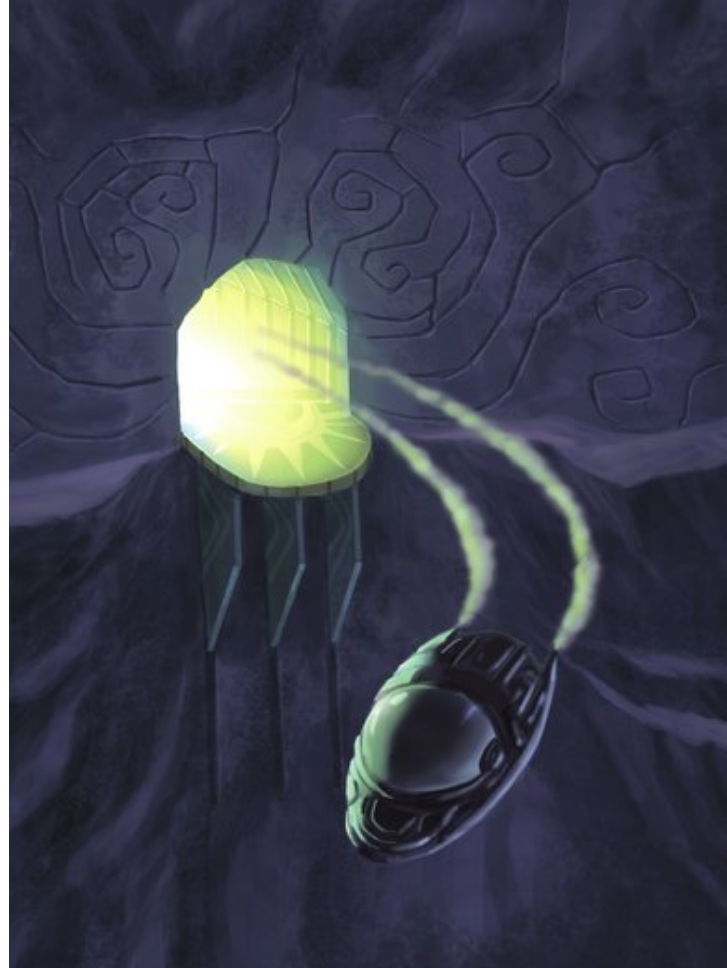

'Sit down and I will tell you a story about our past. Long ago my Father was the ruler of this world. At that time there was a rival ruler. He was that time good and kind to my Father. He used to give many gifts. My Father was very pleased with him, so he gave him a Dragon as a gift. At his core the rival king was cruel and a schemer. After he got the Dragon the Dragon changed into black as the colour reflected the true nature of its owner.'

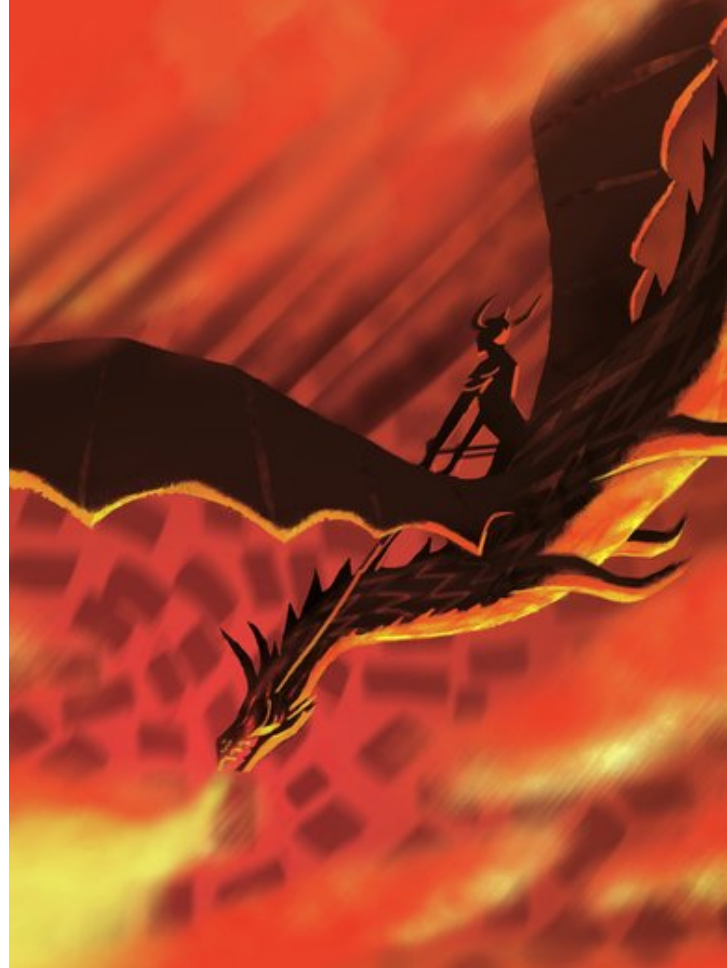

I said 'How?' 'If a Dragon is turned into black colour then it is impure means having bad thoughts and the white dragon is having pure thoughts. He became a black Dragon because of the rival ruler. My father was angry but then our kingdom did not have that much power. The rival ruler was stronger because he had 5 special gemstones. If we could break those gemstones then only we could win.

'We then called you because we know that you would not tell anyone. When you bought 5 pumpkins they were meant to be used secretly to break the gemstones with an ancient spell cast by our royal wizard. One pumpkin each was needed to break a gemstone so that is why we asked you to bring five pumpkins.'

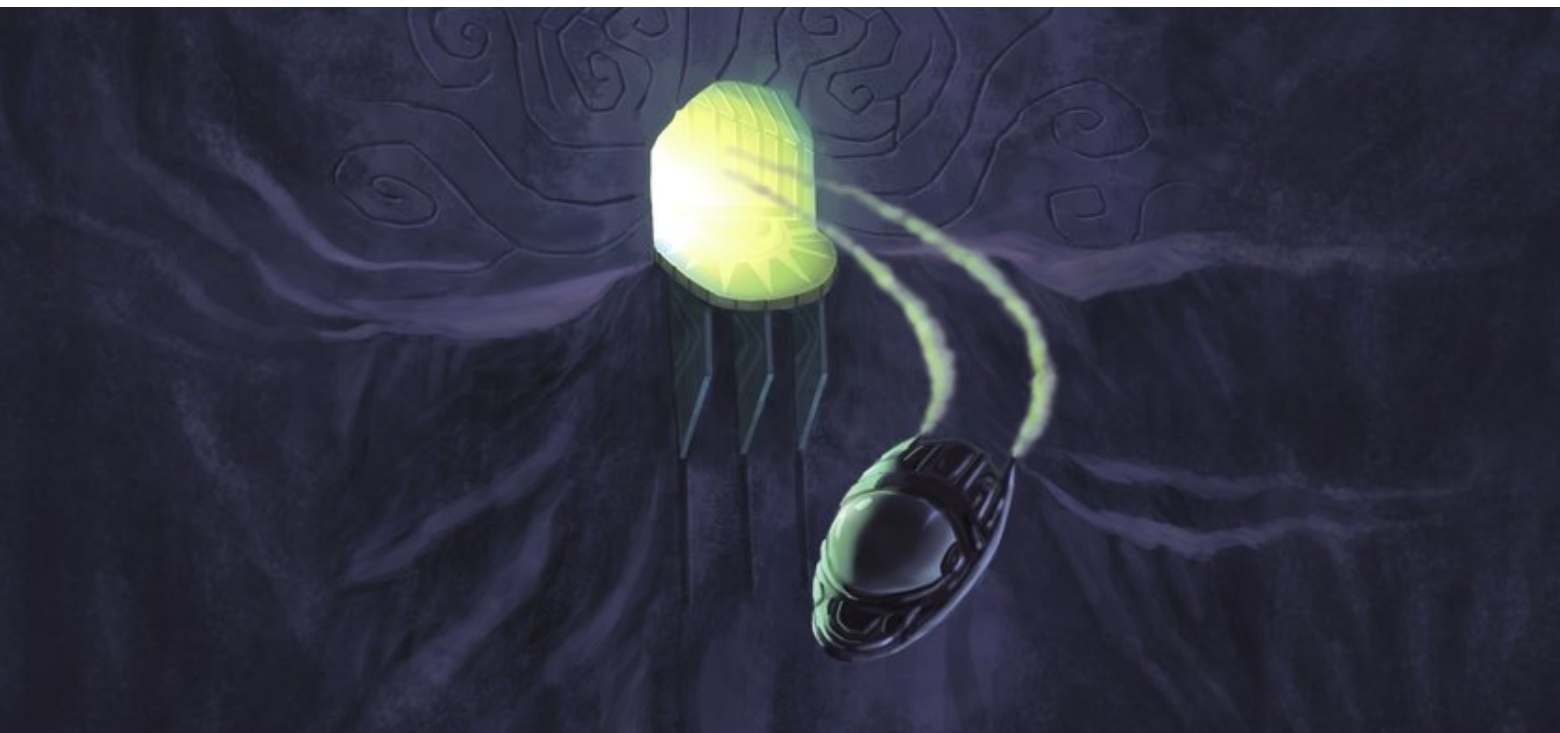

I asked 'In your world are there no Pumpkins?' 'No, our kingdom used to have pumpkins and then a curse from the war corrupted our land and no pumpkin can grow on the land that is why there are no Pumpkins in our world.' 'So, thank you and Goodbye good boy', he said. 'Bye, we will meet again' I responded. I then went back to my world.

Moral: Every hard task can be done by hard work.

Once, there were two men. Their names were Shyam and Ram. They both were fighting for a well.

When the matter didn't settle they both decided to go to the court.

The next morning they went to the court and Ram said " Your majesty, my crops are dying because they are not getting enough water. That is why I asked my friend to sell me his well , and in return he took 500 gold coins from me. But everyday he takes water from the well for daily use."

The king turned to Shyam who said " Your majesty, I have only sold the well but not the water in it. It never said in the agreement papers that the water in the well is his, thus the water remains mine and I use it however I want. "

The king had a very wise minister, who he also thought of as a friend. The king looked at him and said "I ask my wise minister to solve this problem". The minister stood up and said "Your majesty I think that Shyam is right". Everyone in the court was puzzled , the king was surprised his minister was on the wrong side ,but didn't say anything.

The minister said "Shyam , It says only the well is Ram's and the water is yours right."

Shyam nodded

"Then remove all the water from the well and take it home , and leave the empty well for Ram".

Shyam said " How is this possible , I cannot remove all the water from the well!

The minister said " Well I leave the decision Ram. Ram what do you want to do with the well?"

Ram understood the minister's plan and said " Your majesty, I want the well to be empty."

When Shyam horrified to listen Ram's decision, He said " My Lord, I surrender myself.

He said to Ram " I am really sorry my friend for trying to fool you. "

He said to the minister " Thankyou sir, for making my realize my mistake. "

The minister said " No problem my friend but, remember never to commit this mistake again and ask for Ram's forgiveness. "

Ram said " I forgive you Shyam "

Both of them walked away happily and the king rewarded his wise minister.

MORAL- never try to fool someone.

The other day, the bird's leg was cured and my cat was very happy. Then we let the bird fly away. The bird would come to see us everyday and we would feed the bird.

Robo can shape shift into other bots. The reason is there was a little accident and two liquids that shouldn't be combined, combined together, but it was all good and Robo turn out just like another bot but has the power to shape shift.

Robo also kind and friendly. he loves to hangout in the lab and see the programers make more robots.

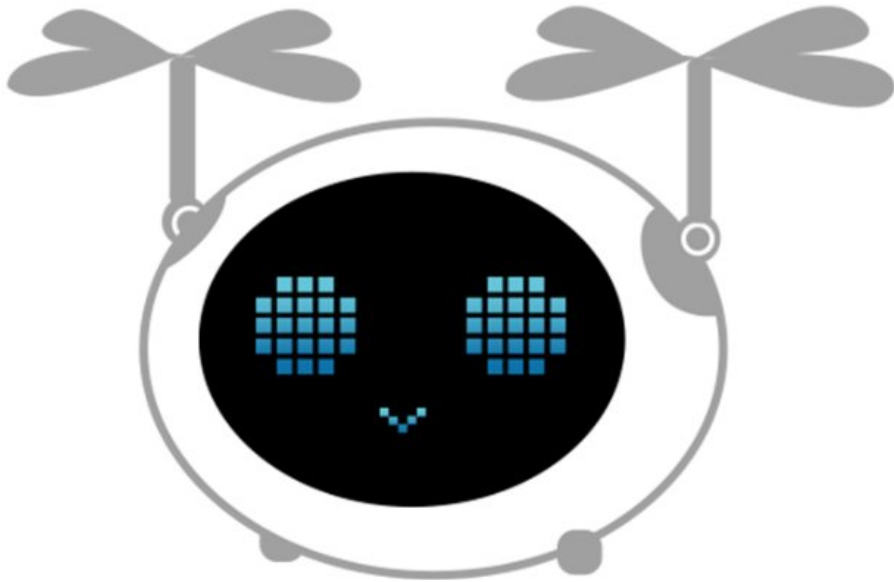

Robo likes shifting into small bots so he can fly around the lab.

Robo liked to go out as well but he couldn't a lot so he wouldn't get lost.

The Fight

Roaming in the woods

Ranji had been less than a month in Rajpur.

It was the height of summer, and his school had not yet opened, having as yet had made no friends in Rajpur.

He wandered about the forests all by himself in his vest and shorts.

The earth was parched, the grass brown, the trees listless, hardly stirring, waiting for a cool wind or a refreshing shower of rain.

A pool

It was on such a day – a hot, tired day – that Ranji found the pool in the forest.

The water had a gentle translucency, and you could see the smooth round pebbles at the bottom of the pool. A small stream emerged from a cluster of rocks to feed the pool.

When Ranji saw the pool, he did not hesitate to get into it since he only knew muddy and sticky pools.

Since it looked so inviting, Ranji leapt right into the pool and had a good time.

The next day..

The next day he came again to quench his body in the cool waters of the forest pool.

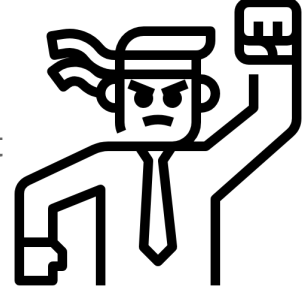

That's when he notices another boy, a little older and who looked stronger than him, staring at him in a hostile manner.

The boy didn't want anyone else to swim in that pool except for himself. Ranji tries to be friendly at first but the boy would not reciprocate which ultimately led to a fight.

The fight begins..

They stared each other in the eye for almost a minute when the boys slapped each other in the face.

And then they were at each other's throats, swaying on the rock, tumbling on to the sand, their legs and arms locked in a desperate, violent struggle. Gasping and cursing, clawing and slapping, they rolled into the shallows of the pool.

After some time, both of them were exhausted and decided to continue the fight the following day.

Later that same day, Ranji and his adversary coincidentally met where they still seemed to treat each other as enemies.

The next day..

It was as hot as the previous and was not at all eager to have a fight but neither could he refuse the challenge at the same time.

The boy was standing on a rock on the other side of the pool and he asked Ranji to come across the pool and fight him. At first, Ranji wouldn't agree but eventually he does.

He dived straight into the pool and cut through the pool like a knife by which his adversary was surprised since he didn't know how to dive. He requested Ranji to teach him how to dive. Ranji agreed. That's when the boy introduced himself as Suraj.

Suraj says that he will make Ranji a pahelwan if Ranji teaches him how to dive. Ranji agreed to this though he doubted if it actually was fair.

A strange feeling had occurred to both of them

How it all ended..

Suraj put his arm around the younger boy and said, "We are friends now, yes?"

They looked at each other with honest, unflinching eyes, and in that moment love and understanding were born.

"We are friends," said Ranji.

"It is our pool," said Suraj. "Nobody else can come here without our permission. Who would dare?"

"Who would dare?" said Ranji, smiling with the knowledge that he had won the day.

THANK YOU

The mermaid had a very magical friend, she was a fairy. She was surprised by seeing the creatures, and was so curious about them. Just then the fairy came, And said "what happened ". The mermaid replied "yesterday i saw a U.F.O" . The fairy laughed and said there was nothing called U.F.O.

The fairy left. And she started thinking, "was it real, there is nothing called as U.F.O or is something there?" After sometime she was confused about it. She wanted to visit her sister Ella. Her house was far away. She was very tired after reaching the place.

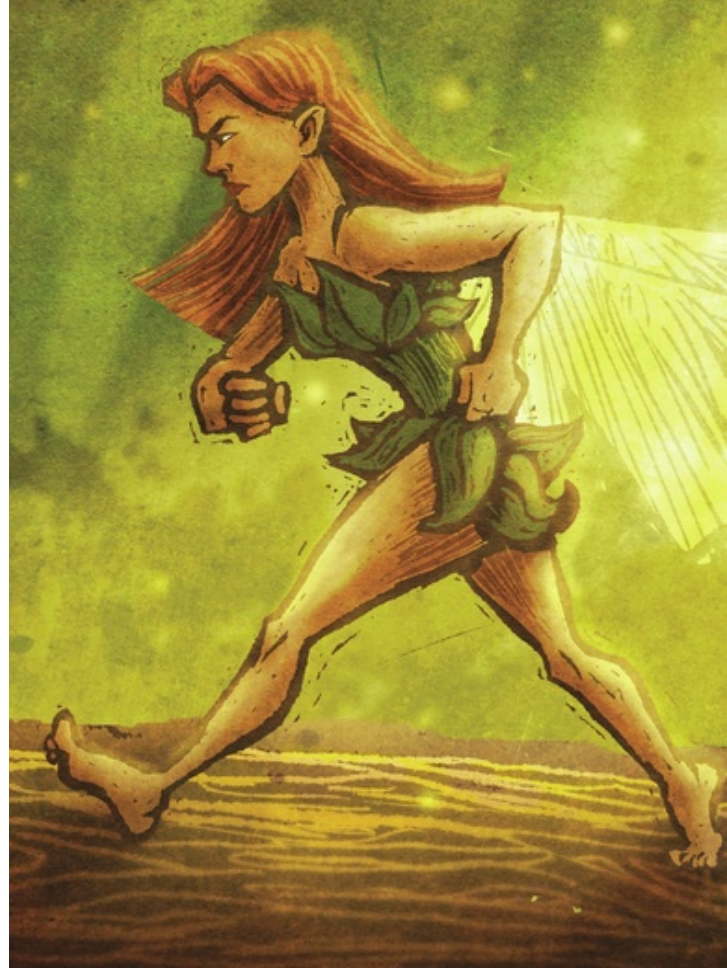

She told the whole story to her sister Ella. Her sister was surprised and thought, she was joking. Ella replied "Hmm.. maybe there is something called U.F.O because in the ancient books of fairies there was something called U.F.O. Let me see."

"Oh ya!" replied Ella. "What happened Ella, is something wrong?" said her sister. Ella replied "Wait, this cant be possible! The book says there is something called U.F.O". Both of them were surprised. Ella said "take me to the place where you saw the U.F.O."

Ella and her sister directly climbed on a mouse and they started their journey to the mermaids home. When they reached, the mermaid shook her hand and said "Hi Ella". Both of the sister went near the mermaid and started talking about it.

The mermaid did not know where the creatures ran. The fairies had a magical spell which could spot where there was a thing or a person. They tried the spell. It worked! When then reached the place for which they were looking for, they saw different creatures spoiling our Earth.

The fairies wanted to fight against them but they didn't have any weapons. Just after that they recalled the spell that their mother had taught them. The spell would turn the fairies into humans, the spell worked! it turned them into humans!

The two fairies turned magically into humans who had weapons. They started to fight with those creatures. The creatures also turned into humans and started fighting against them.

At last the fairies succeeded in the battle.
The creatures lost the battle and never returned back to earth.

Don't Give up

A long time ago, there lived a boy named Rodney in a village. He was very happy with his family. But this happiness could not last for long. Rodney and his fellow villagers faced a severe drought. They desperately waited for rain but had no luck. All the crops, land, and even trees dried up. The cattle started dying. As there was no rain, the stream was drying up slowly.

One night, during a meet with the villagers, Rodney said, "Friends, we all have heard tales from our grandparents about an underground river flowing through our village. Why don't we dig and see?" The villagers agreed and started digging. They dug for some days but gave up soon. However, Rodney kept digging. When people said him to give up, he said, "God is keeping and guiding my way."

One day when he dug deep enough, Rodney saw water. His attitude of not giving up saved up the whole village. "Never give up so easily," Rodney advised all the villagers. Now, they are never short of water. And whenever any problem arises, all the villagers come up together and find a solution.
