When attempting to persuade someone, either in written or oral form, we might want to appeal to their ethics (ethos), logic (logos), or emotion (pathos). Any approach may prove successful, but that depends on our intent. In modern usage, ethos denotes the disposition, character, or fundamental values peculiar to a specific person, people, corporation, culture, or movement. Ethos is also the root word for the modern-day word, ethics. So, when we define our ethos, we are in a sense also alluding to our ethical beliefs or moral values. Ethos, mission, vision & ethics together form a quartet. This quartet acts as a guiding beacon to all our actions, present or future. School ethos can significantly strengthen empathy and induce synergistic progression towards achieving common goals. Students understand what is expected of them. Teachers understand how they must conduct themselves to be apt role models for students. Administrators understand how they can best provide support to teaching staff, students and parents. A well-defined school ethos goes a long way in bringing the 3 E's of education to fruition; extraordinary education, extraordinary exposure and extraordinary experience. Grade 6 Conducted morning assembly from December 28th- December 31st on this topic “Ethos of life”. The students understood the importance of ethics in our daily life and how it helps in sculpting our character and make us as strong individuals. They recited poems, added new words to their vocabulary, enriched the day with enlightening thoughts. This year-end assembly made everyone to think that “Actions speak louder than words, and our actions are from our deep thought irrespective of the hurdles everyone encountered.

BOOK REVIEW: 'LET HER FLY'

"Let Her Fly" is a book narrated by Ziauddin Yousafzai with a flavour of autobiography and walks us along with him to visualise the events of his life and how it impacted aspects of feminism. With deep insight into his childhood, the author pens all the events in great detail to bring to light the educational reforms that his daughter brought into the system. He elaborated on how he is the proud father of Malala Yousafzai and how brave she is. He also emphasised Gandhian philosophy that if we want to change the world, the change should begin with us and how he had implemented this in his life. The author evokes enormous struggles he faced in his life and these experiences have made him into the man he is today.

It is a book that interests people who want to understand the history, transformation of women in societies of Pakistan and can inspire them to strive for a better future where nothing is impossible.

IN THE LAND OF DISNEY

A trip to the greatest magical place in the world was indeed the most memorable one for me. A couple of years ago, my family and I went on a trip to Disney World.

On the first day we visited the Magic Kingdom and explored Tom Sawyer Island, and went to the Space Mountain roller-coaster. As we rode the Seven Dwarfs mine train, I came across the wooden barrels with glowing stones. We also went to the Haunted Mansion and Buzz Lightyear's Space Ranger Spin. I especially loved "The Frozen" and "The Beauty and the Beast" stage plays. Out of all, the most memorable was the Disney Parade in the Frontierland, also known as the Festival of Fantasy.

We spent the next day at the Hollywood studios. The Twilight Zone Tower of Terror and the Rock-Roller Coaster were the best. Nothing could beat the scary elevator drops and the stomach sinking roller coaster effects. We also checked out the Toy Story mania and the Star Tours-The Adventures 3D space flight. The fireworks at the end of the day made our trip even more memorable.
