Home Studio Inaugurated

First of its kind-Concept of “Home-Studio” has been introduced in Jain Heritage- a Cambridge School-Kondapur. The auspicious inauguration took place on 30th January, 2020; by our Academic Director, Dr. K Lakshmi Rao along with our Principal, Mrs. Mona Mehdi.

Just as a child learns how to be disciplined & behave in a certain manner in school through the guidance of the teachers, similarly the school has taken a creative initiative further to incorporate life skills in students with respect to home environment by educating them with basic courtesies that need to be displayed at home. The spectrum of the tasks range from learning how to fold the bed sheets, ironing their own clothes, putting used clothes inside a laundry bag, learning how to tie their shoe-laces & button one’s shirt, on one end; to organizing their study table & learning table manner & etiquettes along with proper use of cutlery on the other end.

Imagine the sense of accomplishment which a child/teenager would achieve having done all the aforementioned tasks on his/her own- that feeling would help the child attain greater goals in their day-to-day lives!

Engaging them through this Home-Studio Concept would help our students become more self-reliant and emerge to be more confident human beings.

Creativity Column

The Fourth Wall: Your True Self

I'm stuck in a room with four walls
And two windows standing wide and tall
While sitting on this bed like a bean
I just noticed that one is yellow and three are green

I've never been so lonely
Neither physically nor mentally
People call n text you the first day
But remember, it's only YOU all the way

While I start to wonder what these walls are like, I think,
Would they shout out if given a Mike
Or stay silent like a lonely night

Do these walls have feelings too
Just the way we humans do
Is it their capability to compress it
Or our inability to explore it

You may be happy on the outside Broken in the inside, But These four walls
Know it all

From when we are a small bean
To now being fifteen
These four walls have seen you grow
And supported you without letting you go

I'm not talking about the walls made of brick and cement Talking about those Who are in your life very prominent

First wall stands for your family
Who are with you till the very end
Next are your gurus
Who teach you the difference between right and wrong and good and bad ...

Third come your friends because of whom
Your days starts with a laugh and the same it ends

Who do you think is the fourth wall
That your life depends on Little did you know
It's your true self which is yet to be found

How far can the three walls
Guide and support you
Till their very last breath
But what if that's before you

Learn to be strong
Learn to be bold
In this changing world
You, yourself should shine like gold

Stop wasting time on others
Work on yourself ;Work on your goals
At the end of the day, all that matters is how far you could go

Build these four walls strong and tall and keep in mind
Three walls without the fourth will not stand but fall !!!!
