Assembly Presentation by Grade V A Topic: Great Personalities

Great personalities can be found throughout India. In numerous fields, India has produced notable individuals who have entered the annals of history. These well-known Indian individuals demonstrate the diversity and greatness of the country and show how it competes on the international stage. These great personalities teach us a lot about the value of self-belief and self-trust since there may be many people who try to prevent us from following our dreams, but if we believe in our abilities and strength of our dreams, our chances of success will be high.

The students of Class V A, of JHCS Kondapur, conducted the assembly on the topic – ‘Great Personalities’ from 2nd of November to 4th of November with utmost zeal and enthusiasm. The assembly started off with the prayer followed by the school song. Students took pledge with pride to be responsible citizens. “It’s always the small pieces that make the big picture.”

Puzzles in the form of crossword is a structural, self-learning educational tool that reinforces knowledge, improves vocabulary and stimulates the mind. These word puzzles are popular for helping in recognizing words. While searching for words, the students seem to read and memorize the words in a way that they enjoy, and which helps them learn the words and their spellings.

The CCA activity was held on 03/11/2022 for Grades IV, V & VI at Jain Heritage a Cambridge School. The students used all their ideas in building up the words and were very creative in solving the puzzles. The students were requested to complete 8-word crossword puzzle using the clues given. Even when one or two clues were difficult, the students were still able to identify and complete the puzzle. All the students enthusiastically participated in the activity. The activity was really fun and proved to be a great learning experience for the students.

Field Trip of Grade VI to VIII Place: Pochampally

"If you never go, you'll never know!"

On 4th of November 2022, the students of Grades VI, VII and VIII went on a field trip to Pochampally. We visited the Pochampally Chenetha Kala Kendram Weaving Museum, where we got to know a lot of information and new facts about the art of weaving. The museum was surrounded by energetic monkeys. We were enlightened with information about Acharya Vinobha Bhaave, an Indian advocate of non-violence and human rights. It all started when he got to know about the poor state of the civilians. He initiated the Bhoodan (land gift) movement started at Pochampally on 18 April 1951. He walked all across India asking people with land to consider him one of their sons and so to give him one-sixth of their land which he then distributed to landless poor. In this way 100 acres of land was donated to the needy. In 1971, they started exporting Pattu Cheera from Pochampally all the way to America. The walls of the museum displayed the various processes of weaving, and the concentration weavers had when they wove. We learnt about Ikkat, a traditional textile that is woven using hand dyed silk or cotton yarn. We saw different designs of weaving like Silk Teliya Mamidi Pandu design, double ikkat, warp ikkat, gollabhama and telia rumal. We saw something really interesting called gadwall sari. A gadwall sari is a mix of cotton and silk, where the entire drape is made of cotton and the border is made of silk. We saw the mechanism of pit looms, frame looms and power looms. We heard about the Integrated Handloom Cluster Development Scheme (IHCDs). It works to up-grade skills of weavers to produce diversified products with improved quality, to provide suitable workplace to improve productivity, and to provide any other basic needs to weavers. We saw weaves that had designs of national leaders like Gandhiji, Indira Gandhi and Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan. We also interviewed a family of weavers. The sarees that they weave are sold for 40,000 Rs in malls and shops, but all that they earn is 10,000 Rs. Not to mention that a simple Ikkat saree takes approximately 4 days to weave. The average income of a cotton weaver is rs 8500 per month and 12500 for silk weavers. The family had a pit loom in their house. They had made a beautiful peacock themed weave which was kept on display. We interviewed Mr. Madhu, a weaver. He told us that weaving was not a white-collar job. It required hard work and patience. Mr. Madhu's family stated that the government supported them and gave them loans when required. We then ate lunch and boarded the bus back to school at 12:55 pm. We reached back at 3:00pm, and boarded the buses again to go home. We were accompanied by our lovely teachers, Kavitha R mam, Mary mam, Anunidhi mam, Jyothi mam, Vatsala mam and Koti Sir. I would like to thank Shuchita mam, Kavitha R mam and our beloved Principal Dr. Mona Mehdi madam for organizing such a wonderful trip, which we all immensely enjoyed.

Radio City Event

I have visited quite a few places with my parents and friends. Among all, a visit to the radio station is unforgettable. There is a procedure for visiting the place and a protocol to follow. Luckily, we, the students of Jain Heritage A Cambridge School had an opportunity to go to the 91.1 FM Radio city, Banjara Hills Hyderabad on 11 November'2022. We could see a grand entry with many signboards and name plates displaying the names of the respective sections and the officers. For the first time, we saw the RJ's room. It is sound proof. We also saw the recording room where a programme is recorded. It was an amazing and interesting experience to see the RJ's working hard to catch and convey the spirit of the children's day. We interacted with RJ Potugadu, a fun-loving RJ for an hour and shared many riddles, jokes, stories, songs which were aired on FM 91.1 Radio city on the eve of Children's Day. We learned many new things. It was an experiential learning. Not only did I see the radio station but also participated as an audience in one of the programs. I returned back to school along with my friends with a happy heart. The memory of that day is still fresh in my mind.

Book Name: House at The Corner
Author: Enid Blyton
Genre: Family Adventure, Comedy

House At the Corner is a book written by Enid Blyton. It was officially published in the year 1947. The book ranks among the finest works of Blyton.

The book is a classic family tale. It moves around Aunt Grace, who is portrayed as a woman who is rather intruding with a sharp tongue but is kind and caring to those who she loves. The book depicts the different challenges children go through, and how they manage to train themselves to handle all the situations they come across. It also tells us that families should be a united front, fight together, and support each other in times of need.

My favorite character was Lizzie because she was witty and came to save her family when they were in dire need of help and support. I could relate to the characters in several ways, and the story kept me guessing. My favorite part of the book was when Lizzie's family got to know about her writing skills and were ecstatic.

Certain scenes were written particularly well, for instance, the sad scenes.

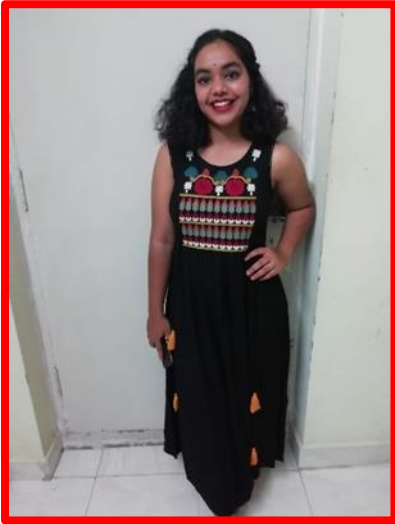

Certain parts, like Tony's pranks and jokes, made me laugh a deal. I like the book to such an extent, that I read it time and again, 19 times to be exact.

Overall, it is an outstanding book. I would recommend this book to young readers and fans of comedy and family adventure.

Alumni Speaks

It all started when I moved here in Grade 7 from SSC Board. From a completely academic focused environment to being a part of a surrounding where extracurricular mattered as much as my Academics. It was like entering my own Hogwarts world. Every day I learnt something new.

Being in school made me realize that my world was very limited and it helped me expand my horizons. It made me seek all the unconventional paths. As my batch was a close-knit group with so many different talents. There was a constant exchange of ideas which made us more aware about our individuality.

School gave me a platform to showcase my strengths and learn from my failures. It taught me to accept that failure isn't something to be scared off. While i write this, I'm reminded of our principal Lakshmi Rao Ma'am's farewell speech to my batch, where Ma'am had told us that Failing meant making our first attempt in learning. Looking back, every faculty member of our school had the same approach throughout my journey. The zeal to teach and ways to make it more interesting made learning fun for me.

After moving to Jain, I had joined in Hobby club: Swimming classes in Gopichand Stadium, Cookery classes, Toastmasters club, our yearly trips, Basketball. My favorite memory would be going to Nepal as my first trip and being a part of the Tetricks-Guinness World Record Competition.

For me, moving to Jain Heritage was the turning point that I needed. I can proudly say whoever I am and wherever I am is because of my school and teachers.

KEEPING PARENTS INVOLVED IN THE CLASSROOM

"The purpose of education is to make good human beings with skill and expertise... enlightened human beings can be created by teachers." - APJ Abdul Kalam

As parents and teachers are partners in the educational and social development of a child, the leadership team of JHCS Kondapur invited the parents of classes VII, VIII, IX and X students to interact with them.

The parents and the team discussed students' progress and tried to address issues being faced in terms of academics and behaviour. The session helped parents to be informed about their child's development. Parents are well-versed in their child's developmental history, interests and lifestyle. On the other hand, the teachers have the knowledge of assessment strategies, rules, and the child's school performance. Parents and teachers collaboratively share this knowledge to support the child's academic achievement and behavioural issues.

Love & joy on Children's Day

Children's Day was celebrated with tremendous joy and enthusiasm by the students and teachers of Jain Heritage A Cambridge School, Kondapur. The educators at JHCS believe that such events fuel children's reservoirs of exuberance.

The teachers made the occasion memorable for the children with a special assembly. The primary students were treated to a melodious medley of songs and a skit, followed by a colourful dance performance by their teachers. For this special occasion, teachers presented musical performances and organized fun games and activities for all the students.

The day's highlight was the Snakes and Ladder Game, played House-wise in two sets by the students of classes V to X. The students enjoyed the innovative and engaging game.

The quiz and tricky questions tested their sharpness.

The day ended on a memorable note from Principal Dr Mona Mehdi who blessed them a joyful childhood. The students felt special with love and affection showered on them by their class teachers.

TUNING IN TO A RADIO STATION

Shreyasi Malhotra, class VI-B, Jain Heritage A Cambridge School
Kondapur

I had the fantastic opportunity to visit a radio station recently. It was a school trip on the occasion of Children's Day to the 91.1 FM Radio City studio.

The entrance had several signboards and nameplates displaying the names of the respective sections and officers. We were fascinated to see the sound-proofed RJ's room. There was a recording room next to it where programmes are recorded. It was an interesting experience to see the RJs working hard to catch and convey the spirit of the Children's Day. We interacted with RJ Potugadu, a fun loving RJ, for an hour and shared many riddles, jokes, stories, songs which were aired on FM 91.1 Radio City on the occasion of Children's Day. We learned many new things.

Not only did I see the radio station but also participated as an audience in one of the programmes. I returned to school along with my friends with a happy heart. The memory of that day is still fresh in my mind.
