More than 120 countries celebrate this special day by organizing concerts in public places such as parks, stadiums, etc. Even several prominent artists organize musical events on World Music Day. This day was initiated by French Minister of Art and Culture, Maurice Fleuret, who was a composer, radio producer, music journalist, and festival organizer. He with his fellow mate, Jack Lange started Fête de la Musique in Paris in 1982, and since then, it spread to many countries. The idea behind celebrating the day is to get musicians, both amateurs and professionals, to come out onto the streets and play their instruments. Our special chief guest, Mr. Swarnava was welcomed with a planter as a token of gratitude. He played beautiful music with the violin and expressed about the instrument. It was a great experience for the students as they took part in singing songs and
